1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 22-27, drawn to a detail of the magnetic shield of the read head of an MR sensor, classified in class 360, subclass 319.
 - II. Claims 1-15, drawn to a detail of the shield including a domain wall free magnetic shield and a biasing layer to maintain the first magnetic layer as a single domain, classified in class 360, subclass 327.32.
 - III. Claims 16-21, drawn to a detail of the magnetic shield including a soft magnetic material layer in a single domain and a quiet zone that prevents transmitted dispersion in the shield from adversely affecting operation of the MR sensor, classified in class 360, subclass 327.22.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
3. Inventions I and II-III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the subcombination II has separate utility such as “a domain wall free magnetic shield” and “a biasing layer to maintain the first magnetic layer as a single domain”; and the subcombination III has separate utility such as “one or more layers of soft magnetic layer, each layer being in a single domain state”.

Art Unit: 2627

4. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as “a domain wall free magnetic shield” and “a biasing layer to maintain the first magnetic layer as a single domain”; and the subcombination III has separate utility such as “one or more layers of soft magnetic layer, each layer being in a single domain state”. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Allen T. Cao whose telephone number is (571) 272-7569. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon - Thurs (7:30 - 6:00).
